Stork Wins Race With Ambulance Last Night

At 10:55 last night the Stork descended with a bundle from heaven and deposited it in Fahey's Ambulance.

On a mad dash to New Orleans with Mrs. Curtis Colson of Lakeshore, the old bird decided to show us mortals that he could outpace even a fast ambulance, and the baby boy was brought into the world during the ride.

Dr. Charles Wascom, Kenneth Whitfield and Oscar Lafontaine were three busy men as they helped the stork with his job.

Mrs. Colson was taken from King's Daughters Hospital to Touro Infirmary where it was feared that complications would set in with the delivery of the baby. Blood transfusions were needed as well as other facilities not available here.

Dr. Wascom rode with his patient in the ambulance and so was right there to help the stork when he finally made up his mind to let the little bundle go.

Reports are that both mother and baby are comfortably encoined in the city, and doing nicely.

No Private School Students May Ride Public School Buses This Year

Students attending private schools cannot ride public school buses this year.

There will be approximately the same transportation setup in the county areas for public school students except where loss of funds has required that bus routes be consolidated or changed slightly.

Children living in the City of Bay St. Louis will not be allowed to ride to school on the school buses.

Children going to private schools will not be allowed to ride to school on the school buses.

This is in line with the state law. Statements from the private school authorities here this week said that no transportation was being provided for the children by St. Stanislaus or St. Joseph Academy.

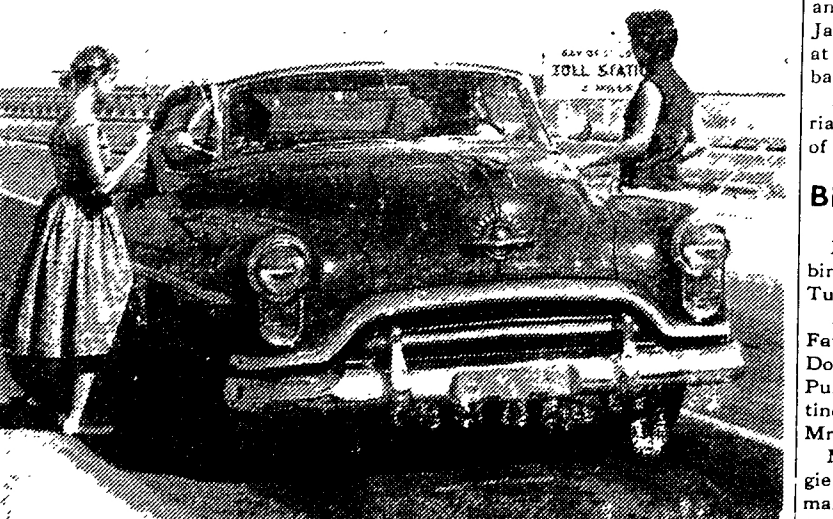

According to S. J. Ingram, superintendent of city schools, the state law always has stated that city students shall not ride the school bus. But if there was room, the buses have been picked up both public and private school pupils in the city.

"In the process of putting into effect all the new education legislation set up by Mississippi this year, it has become necessary to enforce this law," Ingram said.

At a meeting of county school authorities this week a delegation of parents from county areas requested that their children be allowed to ride the buses to private schools if there was room.

Representative Walter James Phillips informed the group that he would ask for a ruling from the Attorney General's office in the matter.

But until such a ruling is handed down, the board said, it can take no action allowing private school students to ride in the county buses.

Shown are two members of the Teen-Agers March on Pulu as they solicited contributions to the emergency March of dimes from motorists halted at the stoplight at the Bay Bridge.

Big Expectations For Rodeo Saturday Says Chairman

As the big day approaches, Gerald V. Price Sr., Chairman of the Rodeo Committee of the Clement R. Bon Temps Post 139 stated his confidence that the event this year will be the finest ever presented on the Gulf Coast.

Those big cash prizes which were upped 50 per cent this year appear mighty attractive to the youngsters, he said.

The rodeo will be held Saturday from the Legion public pier.

"We are fortunate in having secured many other fine prizes for this year's Rodeo," Price said. "We have three of the finest Pflueger reels, six Pflueger lines, three fine True Temper rods, and two hundred golden souvenir fish hooks as additional prizes. These fine prizes were donated direct by the manufacturers."

A complete set of one rod, reel, line and golden fish hook will be awarded to the boy catching the highest number of fish of all classes. Another identical set will be awarded to the girl who catches the highest number of fish. A drawing will be held for the remaining set allowing every registered youngster a chance to win one of these fine complete sets of tackle.

The two hundred fish hooks will be presented to the first two hundred youngsters who register, providing they are present at the judging following the Rodeo, Price added.

A registered nurse, Mrs. A. P. Jones, a Legion Auxiliary member, will be present throughout the day to give first aid if necessary. The rodeo committee will keep a sharp lookout to protect the youngsters. The very tiniest youngsters are welcome to compete in the Rodeo but it is expected that a parent will accompany these immature Isaaq Walters.

The Rodeo starts at 8 a.m. and ends at 5 p.m. but it is not required that the contestants remain or fish this entire period.

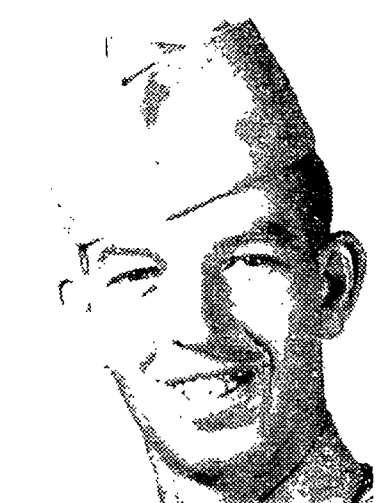

Judging will start promptly at 5 p.m. and results will be announced as quickly as possible. Judges will be Gen. Louis F. Guerre, Val Flanagan and Judge Nelus C. Rhodes.

Presentation of prizes will be made by Mayor John Seaford.

Sandwiches and other refreshments will be sold by members of the Legion Auxiliary committee headed by Mrs. Leroy Luke. These refreshments will be available all day, according to Mrs. Luke.

The rodeo is open to youngsters 16 years of age and under.

Contestants must bring their own tackle and bait.

BLOOD DRAWING SLATED FOR EARLY OCTOBER SAYS BLOOD BANK HEAD

The Blood Bank of Hancock County has been called upon almost daily for blood both locally and for replacement in hospitals out of the city.

"Several points were needed this week by local people," George Heitzmann, Blood Bank Director, said. "All were able to be served."

Heitzmann said another drawing will be held sometime around the first of October, when members of the noble unit from Foundation Hospital in New Orleans again will be in the county for the operation. Blood given in Hancock County is processed and stored for use by the people of Hancock County.

Beat Bottlenecks on Labor Day Trips

If you're planning a Labor Day weekend automobile trip, you can "beat the bottlenecks." All it takes is a pencil and road map, according to H. J. Nicholas, Chairman of the Mississippi Petroleum Industries Committee.

"On the map, mark down where you are and the place you want to go," Nicholas said. "Then circle all those spots where traffic will get congested between the two points," he suggested, "and simply work out a route to get around them."

Nicholas pointed out that the real problem for holiday travel "comes when everybody wants to go to the same place, at the same time, and use the same route. One of the best ways to beat the bottlenecks is to use the solid color 'blue roads' shown on your road map," he added.

Nicholas noted that service stations have information on the latest road conditions and can usually provide travel tips that will also be helpful.

"If you have any questions about our proposed route," the oil man advised, "hesitate to stop and ask your gasoline dealer."

Labor day driving, Nicholas concluded, "can be a pleasure—not a headache—if you plan your trip completely beforehand."

Say Voters Must OK Tax If City To Progress

The Mayor and Commissioners of Bay St. Louis today urged citizens and taxpayers to vote for the one-half of one per cent sales tax on Saturday, Sept. 4.

The city officials stressed the fact that this additional income was urgently needed if Bay St. Louis was to progress. They pointed out that the only other method of obtaining additional revenue was by increasing the present ad valorem tax.

"Every property owner, we feel sure, would be opposed to this method," the officials said.

During the period from 1948 to 1953 all municipalities of the state received financial aid from the state through the distribution of the so-called "Pork Barrel" funds.

Bay St. Louis' share was approximately $7500 a year. However, the last legislature failed to provide any financial aid whatsoever to municipalities.

A half-cent sales tax should provide annual revenue of approximately $25,000.

In a statement urging the passage of the tax, the Mayor and Commission Council pledged to use the additional revenue for the following proposed improvements:

- (1) Hard surfacing of existing dirt streets
- (2) Increase wages of city employees 10 per cent
- (3) Provide funds to assist in the construction and maintenance of a hospital
- (4) Purchase and develop a site for a much needed cemetery.
- (5) Resurface streets which are in dire need of repair
- (6) Widen the first block of Main Street to alleviate traffic congestion
- (7) Improve surface and storm drainage and natural drains
- (8) Hard surface Railroad Avenue to the city limits
- (9) Increase financial support toward the Memorial Library
- (10) Provide funds for the City's pro rata share for employing a youth counselor.

Other cities on the Coast which now have a municipal sales tax include Pass Christian, Gulfport, Biloxi, Ocean Springs, Pascagoula and Moss Point.

"A sales tax is the fairest tax there is," the City Council said. "We all realize our city is a resort. We have a large influx of summer visitors and residents, who utilize all of our city facilities and services for which they bear no part of the tax burden."

"A sales tax will provide a means by which these people will help bear the cost of providing the facilities and services which they utilize."

A family which spends $1,000 in the retail stores of Bay St. Louis annually would pay an additional sales tax of only a little more than $5, the Commission Council said.

All voters in this election will cast their ballots at City Hall.

Voters are not required to present poll tax receipts.

State, Federal Funds May Be Available For Hospital

Foster L. Fowler, director of the Mississippi State Commission for Hospital Care said last week that Federal and State Funds are available for hospital construction in "A" priority areas, and that Hancock County is an "A" priority area.

"A priority area," he added, "means that we must not expect overnight, since there would be a great deal of detail to iron out."

Fowler met at the Court House last Thursday with the Board of Supervisors, Mayor and City Commissioners, members of the King's Daughters hospital board, members of the American Legion hospital committee, local doctors and many other interested citizens.

Fowler pointed out that in some cases hospitals constructed under the Mississippi Hospital Program were self-sustaining, while some showed heavy losses. He said that he was confident that such a hospital could be operated within a budget which could be afforded here.

He said that in his opinion a 50-bed hospital would show a deficit of from $10,000 to $15,000 in the first year and about half that amount in each succeeding year.

Fowler pointed out that the county could be required to pay for the medical outfit of supplies such as drugs, food, linens and many other necessities which probably would amount to about $15,000.

Cost of the land here for a hospital would be 13 per cent of the total, with the remainder to be paid by State and Federal Funds. Fowler explained, however, he pointed out that the land must be purchased at secured by local parties.

Several sites offered to the American Legion for a hospital were inspected by Fowler, Johnson Shum, Mayor Seaford, A. C. Mitchell, D. C. M. Shipp, W. L. Aviston, Meggab Shrouds, Joseph Benvenutti, Russell Elliott and Gordon Romanoff.

HOSPITAL HOSTESS IS ADDED AT THE BAPTIST HOSPITAL

A Hospital hostess has been added to the growing and efficient staff of the Mississippi Baptist Hospital. This announcement was made by W. Wilson Turner, administrator.

The new hostess is Mrs. Nermer L. Gill of Jackson. She has taught and served as counselor in public schools in the state. She is an active member of the First Baptist Church, Jackson, and its organizations, including the Missionary round table. She is first vice president of the Fifth District Federated Club, and a member of the New Era Club and the MSCW Alumni.

One of the many duties of the new hostess is to visit each day all patients entered on the preceding day. On her first day there were 45 new patients; on the second day there were 88.

The hostess gives special attention to patients from out-of-town, who have no relatives or friends nearby. She writes letters for these, runs short errands, or sees to it that they have whatever is necessary. She makes phone calls for these and many other patients, and contacts the families of those patients entering the hospital without time to call back home.

When a patient is in surgery, she waits with the family, keeping in contact with surgery and passing the information to those concerned. When a family is grieved over the passing of a loved one, she serves and comforts them in whatever way is possible.

She serves throughout the hospital wherever she is most needed. If Mrs. Gill serves more patients in a single day than it seems possible, it is because she keeps before her the words of Christ, "In as much as ye have done it unto one of the least of these, ye have done it unto me."

No Indication That Hurricane Dolly Will Strike Anywhere on Gulf Coast

There's no indication that Hurricane Dolly now roaring northward in the open Atlantic will strike anywhere along the coast, according to reports yesterday.

At 5 p.m. (EST) yesterday, Dolly was 460 miles east of Wilmington, N. C. The Weather Bureau said it would curve gradually toward the northeast during the next 12 to 18 hours.

The season's fourth hurricane was whirling along at 28 miles an hour with winds of 100 to 115 miles per hour near the center.

Hurricane winds—75 miles per hour—extend outward about 50 miles from the center and gales extend outward 150 miles to the east and 100 miles to the west of center.

Shipping in the path of the hurricane was advised to use caution.

"Intensity is expected to remain about the same but with some spreading of year."

the area of strong winds," the Miami Weather Bureau said at 5 p.m. yesterday.

Grady Norton, chief storm forecaster at the Miami Weather Bureau, said the storm offered "no threat to any land areas for 24 hours or more."

"It's a small hurricane, moving rapidly," said Norton. "From its present position it will stay ever water for a considerable time. I don't think we need to worry too much about it at the moment."

The hurricane, named Dolly for the ship, was the alphabet, spawned about 725 miles east of Jacksonville, Fla. It developed from an easterly wave which formed off Puerto Rico two days ago.

Easterly waves are broad bands of bad weather moving from east to west across the Atlantic. Hurricanes sometimes spawn in them at this time of year.

TO THE QUALIFIED ELECTORS OF THE EIGHTH CHANCERY COURT DISTRICT:

On the day following the election, on August 24th, I gave a brief statement through the Gulfport Daily Herald, expressing my warm appreciation of the loyal, generous support of my host of friends throughout the entire district.

After waiting two days for the final official election returns, it was too late to procure publication of same in all the weekly press last week.

I am, therefore, now availing myself of the facilities of the press to again emphasize my deep and genuine sense of gratitude to every voter and non-voter who in anywise contributed to my reelection for this, the seventh term as Chancellor of the Eighth District, by a majority of more than two-to-one in each of the three counties.

I did practically no campaigning, relying mainly upon the columns of the press and a few radio talks to carry my personal appeal to the people; and upon the voluntary and valuable support of members of the bar, court officials and many others, to whom I make grateful acknowledgement here of their unselfish, effective services as they played a major role in behalf of my re-election. For all of which I am sincerely grateful, and I here and now pledge to the entire public a continuation of my best services as your Chancellor.

Sincerely yours,
D. M. Russell Sr.

GAS PIPELINE TO FLORIDA TO HAVE STATION HERE

A pipeline official said a proposed gas line to serve Florida would originate in the Louisiana Delta Field, and gather natural gas from lateral lines converging near Pointe A La Hache, La.

J. O. Mack, president of the Houston, Tex. Gas and Oil Co., notified the Panama City, Fla. Chamber of Commerce that his firm would file application with the Federal Power Commission soon for a permit to build the line at a cost of 148 million dollars.

Mack said an engineering report prepared for his company showed a sufficient market in Florida to justify construction of a pipeline approximately 1,000 miles long in Florida.

The system calls for 360 miles of 34-inch and 300 miles of 30-inch main lines with some 400 miles of 20 and 16-inch laterals to serve cities and towns.

Mack said the line would cross the panhandle of Florida then continue to the southern part of the state. Compressor stations, he said, are planned at Crestview and Winter Haven, Fla., and Bay St. Louis.

Sidney Bourgeois motored to New Orleans Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Asher and Mrs. Ruth Ketchum and daughter, Miss Clara Lee Ketchum, were among those from Waveland who visited Rev. Ran dall in Hattiesburg this week. The minister was hospitalized after surgery. His friends are glad to know he will soon be among them again.

BIRDSONG URGES SAFE LABOR DAY

Pointing to the most heartening saving of lives in Mississippi during the first six months of this year, Col. T. B. Birdsong, Commissioner of Public Safety, asks all who expect to be driving on walking to work together for a safe Labor Day Weekend.

Colonel Birdsong said, "In looking over the record for the last two years we find one killed on Labor Day in 1952, two killed on Labor Day in 1953, and for the long holiday period, 6 p.m. Sept. 3 to midnight Sept. 6, for the two years there were 9 killed in 1952 and 6 killed in 1953."

What will it be this year? Said Birdsong further, "This year, as in the past, radio, newspapers, TV, and outdoor advertisers have been a tremendous help in the fight against traffic accidents. We find that most of the good jobs. So far this year, Mississippi has an 11 per cent reduction in traffic deaths over last year."

Infant Shower

Mrs. Bernard Piazza was the honoree at an infant shower given Friday, Aug. 27 at 131 Main St. with Mrs. Donald Manner, Mrs. Frank Rapier and Mrs. Bonnie Rapier as hostesses.

Pink and white were used as the color scheme, with white flowers forming the floral arrangement on the dining room table.

A baby carriage, white trimmed with pink, holding a baby doll, held the many lovely gifts received by the expectant mother.

Twenty-four guests were present.

Infant Shower

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rapier on Union St. was the scene of a party Saturday, Aug. 21 when Mrs. Rapier, her daughter, Mrs. Bonnie Rapier, and Mrs. Donald Manner, entertained at an infant shower honoring Mrs. Ralph Hill. About 30 guests were present for the occasion.

White flowers with pink trimmings were used in the decorations, and the table in the dining room was especially attractive with an embroidered cloth, white flowers and a baby doll centering the decorations.

Pete Barrow, son of Joe Barrow, a U.S. Navy Reserve unit in New Orleans, Aug. 14. On Aug. 23 he left on Norfolk, Va. from which port he is on a cruise. He will return Sept. 1 and resume his studies at State University College.

We ask continued cooperation of all concerned to make this Labor Day a safe one. Patrolmen will be on duty around the clock during this holiday period. The Radar will be working, and every driver is urged to drive just a little slower and not wait until the last minute to start for the homecoming journey for there is no coming sure, DEATH TAKES NO HOLIDAY.

'KNOCK ON WOOD' AT DRIVEIN SUN, MON, TUE.

How funny can a film get? Well, local movie goers are about to get the answer to this pleasant question when Paramount's brand new Danny Kaye comedy, "Knock on Wood," opens Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Hi-Way Drive-In Theatre. Already hailed as one of the best, funniest, rollicking, great, and what have you films of all time, the funniest fruit co-stars lovely Swedish actress Mai Zetterling and was filmed in color by Technicolor. In a phrase, "Knock on Wood" is an all-out assault on the funny bone.

Naturally the main feature of the film is Danny Kaye in a role designed strictly for laughs. It is the first picture for Danny in years that allows him to indulge in sheer, uninhibited fun.

Returns from Ala. and Tenn.

Miss C. C. McDonald has returned from a short trip during which she attended a meeting in Atlanta, Tenn. and her sister in law, Mrs. L. L. McDonald, who had just returned from two weeks in North Africa and the Azores with the 308th Squadron, USAF.

In Atlanta, Mrs. McDonald attended a briefing conference called by the US Committee on UN Day observance. The thirty people invited from five southern states will serve as volunteer field workers in the communities from them for the various celebrations planned for Oct. 24 and the week preceding.

The mayors of all cities over 2,500 have been asked to appoint special chairmen to head up a representative committee drawn from the many organizations which sponsor Legion Auxiliary, AAUW, PTA, League of Women Voters, United Council of Church Women and many others.

The General Assembly set this day aside with the idea that "the anniversary should be dedicated each year to making known the aims and accomplishments of the United Nations."

President Eisenhower in his proclamation says, "I do hereby urge the citizens of this Nation to observe Sunday, October 24, 1954 as United Nations Day with community programs and will demonstrate their faith and support of the United Nations and create a better public understanding of its aims, achievements and problems."

In addition to special sermons and church observances, many organizations will have a program and it is hoped there will be one community-wide celebration.

Birthday Party

Eight year old Linda Louise McCulloch celebrated her birthday last Friday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan McCulloch with about 14 of her little friends.

A private picture shown at home, followed by supper with the traditional birthday cake, decorated with candles, delighted the little guests.

FEHRENBACH-SAVOIE
NUPTIAL VOWS ARE EXCHANGED JULY 31

Among the summer weddings of interest here was that of Miss Yvonne C. Fehrenbach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Fehrenbach, to Sonny F. Savoie, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Savoie of Harehan, La. The ceremony took place at Our Lady of Good Counsel Church, July 31, with Msgr. Charles Beavin officiating.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white imported tulle. The neckline of the fitted bodice was embroidered in seed pearls, and was made with long fitted sleeves ending in cathedral points over the hands. The bouffant skirt was fashioned in three tiers of tulle and nylon tulle, and fell into a graceful sweeping train. A square shaped cap of lace was embroidered in pearls, and held to the head the fingertip length veil of nylon illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of a white orchid with lilies of the valley and stephanotis.

The bride chose as her attendants Miss Irma Mae Zermigues, a cousin of the bridegroom, and her two sisters, Misses Janet and Carleen Fehrenbach. They were similarly gowned in blue net over tulle, and wore matching picture hats and carried cascade bouquets of yellow roses.

Groomsmen were Thomas Previtt, Joseph C. Bourgeois and Lester Sunny Saville Jr.

Ushers were Marcel James and Alphonse Allemen.

Mrs. Fehrenbach, mother of the bride, chose for the occasion a blue lace dress worn with white hat and accessories.

Following the church ceremonies a reception was held at the WOW hall.

The young couple went to Chattanooga on their wedding trip and are at home in Harehan, La.

Out of town guests for the wedding included Mrs. Frank Bourgeois, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Bourgeois and family, Mrs. Oswald Villere, Mrs. Charles Poole, Mrs. Turner Suldine, Jerry Wheat and Mrs. Frank Larocca.

Sgt. and Mrs. Roy Favre with their young son, John Forrest, are guests of Sgt. Favre's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Favre. They motored here from Arizona enroute to Norfolk, Va.

THIS WEEK IN Farm Bureau

Downhearted Mississippi farmers who face winter with less land in the barrel than usual due to drought, cotton acreage allotments and subnormal farm prices were given a slightly cheering new program by the USDA last week.

On the heels of the newly announced cotton-share program to be operated by the ASC (Agricultural Stabilization Conservation) President Eisenhower scheduled a drought inspector to visit Mississippi Sept. 1 to survey conditions here for further drought disaster aid.

The twin actions to help Mississippi farmers overcome a one-third setback in farm income this year was spurred by a report to Governor Hugh White Wednesday that all counties in Mississippi are suffering from the effects of an abnormally dry and hot summer. Governor White in turn wired President Eisenhower Wednesday that Mississippi farmers face critical damage to their dairy and beef herds if drought disaster funds are not made available to this state.

The drought disaster program provides cheaper feeds to carry over normal farm herds on an average supply of feedstuffs.

In the meantime the Mississippi ASC office, formerly the PMA, was busy checking county-by-county drought reports as to the extent of damage to the various crops. ASC last week was authorized to waive all conditions of the fall and winter vegetative cover program so unlimited acreage can be planted this fall and winter to these crops to help put "diverted acres" back to work.

Commenting on the action taken, Boswell Stevens, Mississippi Farm Bureau Federation president, said:

"We believe that it was a united effort of all agencies and farm organizations working together to focus attention on the seriousness of the situation that caused almost immediate recognition of the serious conditions that now exist."

"The sending of the representative of the USDA to make a first hand survey immediately upon request proves that in unity there is strength. The drought relief program this year will not be as complete as in former years, but it is anticipated that credit will be available for those farmers that will actually need financial help."

LYNDALL HEITZMANN BECOMES BRIDE OF NEVILLE GLENN ORRETT

Miss Lyndall Alice Heitzmann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Heitzmann Jr. became the bride of Neville Glenn Orrett, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Orrett of Costa Rica, C. A., on Saturday afternoon, August 28 at three o'clock.

The bride was given in marriage by her father in a double ring ceremony at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church. The church was handsomely decorated with white gladioli, chrysanthemums and palms. Organ music was played by Prof. Joseph Hemmersbach.

The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her father, was gownned in a ballerina length wedding dress fashioned of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over taffeta. The fitted bodice was made with a scalloped neckline. Long sleeves ended in cathedral points over the hands.

The bouffant skirt was of tulle, and the bride wore a small cap which held the finger tip veil of nylon illusion to the head. She carried a cascade bouquet of fleur d'amour tied with white satin lovers knots.

The bride chose as her only attendant her sister, Miss Mary Alice Heitzmann. She was dressed in a ballerina length frock of nylon tulle over taffeta in lavender color, and wore a lavender hat and carried a spray bouquet of asters in shaded lavender colors.

Byron Kane of New Orleans was best man, and George Heitzmann, an uncle of the bride was usher.

A reception at the home of the bride's parents on the Old Spanish Trail followed the Church Service. Mrs. Heitzmann received her guests in a gown of pale pink imported lace worn with white hat and accessories, and wore a shoulder corsage of white carnations. She was assisted in receiving by the mother of the bridegroom, who chose navy blue silk with white hat and accessories and also wore a white carnation corsage.

The home was decorated with white gladioli and chrysanthemums and the bride's table was laid with a hand crocheted cloth centered with a three tiered wedding cake, flanked with lighted tapers in silver candelabra, and circled with white flowers and fern.

The cake was served by Mrs. H. M. Query, an aunt of the bride from New Orleans, and punch was presided over by Mrs. Joseph Cain and Mrs. Vivian Carvin, sisters of the bride's father, of Gulfport. Marilyn Heitzmann and Carolyn Cain were tea girls.

For her wedding trip the bride wore a navy blue suit with pink accessories and a shoulder corsage of pink rosebuds. Upon their return from the trip the young couple will make their home in Lafayette, where the bridegroom is attending SLI.

The bride was graduated from Bay High School in 1952, and more recently was employed by Cue Oil Co.

The bridegroom was graduated from St. Stanislaus in 1953, and has since been attending SLI.

BLIGHT CAUSING TOMATO EMBARGO

Tomato plants are embargoed from being imported into Mississippi, the State Plant Board said Saturday.

Dr. Ross Hutchins, state entomologist, said to prevent spread of "late blight," against importation of tomato plants from any state into Mississippi in an effort to prevent spread of "late blight."

He said the disease damaged the area in 1950 and again this summer. Earlier this week, Dr. Hutchins announced an embargo against importation of tomato plants from Florida after late blight was found on plants from that state.

COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES

BY HOWARD F. SIMMONS
Hancock County Agent

PASTURES

Early September is the time to make the first plantings of oats or wheat for early winter grazing. For quicker germination and growth, first plantings should be made on fallowed land.

For this early planted grazing, Extension agronomists recommend one-half acre per animal. Use 120 pounds of oats per acre and put down phosphate, potash and nitrogen fertilizers at planting time. This half acre per animal will furnish plenty of grazing until later plantings are ready.

The first plantings of cereals should be made a little deeper than you usually plant. This is to help get the seed down to where moisture is available. Cultivate all early fall plantings. If you have time, run the cultipacker twice.

CATTLE LICE

You may think that your cattle are free from lice. Possibly they are right now while we are still having hot weather. However, lice tend to lie practically dormant and cause little damage during hot weather. They build up and cause plenty of damage as soon as the weather gets cool.

Makes your plans to treat your stock for cattle lice before cold weather sets in. Any time in the fall on a warm day is a good time to spray for lice control.

It will take two or three gallons of diluted spray material to do the job, which requires a thorough covering of the animal's body. Usually one treatment with any of the recommended materials except rotenone will give good control. However, sometimes a second treatment is needed 14 to 28 days after the first treatment.

Check with your county agent for materials to use and methods of application. Ask him for a free copy of Extension Publication 214, "Control Cattle Lice."

COTTON HARVESTING

This year you are going to have to get full value for your cotton to make the most profit. Clean cotton brings in more money than that which has to be over cleaned at the gin. Here are some tips to help the ginner help you have more marketable product.

In this area where hand picking in fields is done, keep grass blades, stems and seeds out of the cotton.

Don't tramp seed cotton into your wagon or cotton trailer. Every bit of tramping you do makes the trash that much harder to get out of the cotton. Pick your cotton dry and keep it dry.

Cover trailers with a tarp when hauling to gin. This will not only keep it dry in case of rain, but will help keep foreign matter out of the seed cotton.

Check your cotton trailers and make sure that no loose bolts, nails or other bits of metal are lying about. If these are taken in at the gin with the cotton, it might start a gin fire.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Nelson with their two daughters, Loyce and Karen, and their son, Lanny, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Craft at their home on Carroll Ave.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Samuel of New Orleans and daughters Cynthia and Stephanie spent last week with Mr. Samuel's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Samuel.

MODERN COOKING CALLS FOR

Gas

No lengthy burner warm-up or cooling-off periods to make your kitchen uncomfortably hot. Only modern gas cooking gives you instant heat. All the cooking temperature you require is there the second you turn on your gas burner . . . and heat stops the second you turn it off.

Millions are enjoying the comfort and convenience natural gas service brings to the home. It is essential in their interest as well as the public generally that the natural gas industry be encouraged in every way to continue its search for new reserves of this matchless fuel. Assurance of dependable supplies is another reason why everyone agrees that gas service is the biggest bargain in your home today — worth every cent you pay for it . . . and then some!

BALANCED PLAN FOR FARMING ALLOWS YEAR ROUND PROFITS

A balanced farm program consisting of truck crops, cotton, corn and beef cattle helps insure a year-round farm income to Mac Brown of near Hattiesburg.

Mr. Brown's truck farming is a balanced operation in itself. He does not depend on any one market vegetable crop for his total truck crop income.

Some of the marketable vegetables grown by Mr. and Mrs. Brown are okra, tomatoes, sweet peppers, squash, cantaloupes, watermelons and pumpkins. Possibly the okra crop is the major truck crop grown.

In early season Brown cuts okra from the entire field. However, after this vegetable becomes plentiful on the market, he lays by a major part of the field and allows it to go to seed. Last year after selling okra on the local market all season, he harvested and combined his okra seed, had it cleaned and sold it for $200 to a major seed supply house.

COLEMAN TO ENTER GOVERNOR'S RACE

JACKSON Miss Atty Gen. J. P. Coleman today indicated he would be a candidate for governor in next summer's race.

In a statement to the press, Coleman said he would "make a formal announcement of my candidacy" at the proper time and pursue a vigorous campaign.

The attorney general said he issued the statement to correct "unauthorized rumors which are now being circulated to the contrary."

He said it has been generally known for several years that he would be a gubernatorial candidate in 1955.

Three other persons have indicated they also would run. They are Mrs. Mary Cain, editor of the Summit Sun; Ross Barnett, Jackson attorney; and Paul Johnson Jr. Hattiesburg attorney.
